CCO/wonderingtaren/Pixabay For well over a decade, the Honda Civic has been one of the bestselling vehicles, particularly with people ages 35 and under. However, you don't have to fall within that age range to appreciate its many great features. Most experts consider it a good investment, because it's stylish, comfortable, reliable, safe, fuel-efficient and it performs well. As of 2016, it's in its tenth generation, and it just gets better with age. If you're considering purchasing a Honda Civic, you need to know about these five great features:1. The Roomy InteriorOne of the first features you'll hear Honda Civic owners and experts alike mention is just how spacious the car's interior is, especially for a compact vehicle. And that roominess extends from the front seat all the way to the cargo space. The tenth generation of the Civic saw passengers receive over three more cubic feet of extra space, something that is unparalleled in this particular class of vehicles. While some compact vehicles have a cramped back seats, the Civic doesn't, and it also offers plenty of head room. Best of all is the 15.1 cubic feet of cargo space. The Civic was already known for having plenty of space in its trunk, but the tenth generation made it even roomier which means you can fit your luggage, strollers, groceries and whatever else you need.2. The Entertainment SystemThese days, the entertainment system in a car is just as important as its other features, and the tenth generation Honda Civic doesn't disappoint. Smartphone integration is seamless with options for both Android Auto and Apple CarPlay. It also comes with SiriusXM satellite radio. Previous generations of the Civic didn't have either. Aside from the base LX model, the car comes with a touchscreen display, and all versions come with Bluetooth and audio connections with steering wheel controls. Depending on the model, you can get a 160-watt, 180-watt or 450-watt sound system. The 450-watt option even has navigation integrated into the system.3. The Safety FeaturesIf you're looking for a car that's safe — and who isn't? — you can't go wrong with the Honda Civic. The National Highway Traffic Safety Administration awarded it the organization's top safety rating, and the Insurance Institute for Highway Safety claims the car beat every single one of its collision tests. Even the most basic model of the Civic comes with advanced safety gear, including sensors for adaptive cruise control, lane and road-leaving detection, automatic brakes and collision detection. The car even has a camera on passenger side mirror that shows you when it's safe to switch lanes when you use your blinker.4. The EngineDepending on the model and style of Civic you buy, you have several engine options available to you, but no matter which one you select, you can count on it being powerful. The standard sedan engine generates up to 158 hp and 138 lb-ft of torque. The turbocharged engine on the Civic can generate up to 174 hp and up to 177 lb-ft of torque. Because of these powerful little turbo engines, the car has more get-up-and-go than many other cars its size. You don't have to worry much about lagging when you're taking off at stop lights or trying to make a quick turn into busy traffic. Combine that with out agile and easy-to-drive the tenth generation Honda Civic is, and you'll find it quite a pleasure to take out on the road.5. The Gas MileageA car's gas mileage may not be one of its sexiest features, but it's definitely something you'll want to know about unless you have money to waste. And since you probably don't, you'll be happy to know that fuel efficiency is one of the Honda Civic's most beloved features. Thanks to the new design that was introduced in 2016, the Civic now gets 31 miles per gallon in the city and 42 on the highway if you opt for an automatic transmission. This makes it a great car for anyone who commutes long distances to school or work each day, as well as anyone who likes to stick to a budget. MORE FROM QUESTIONSANSWERED.NET
